BLAINE TO RUDINI.

The Law Will Take Its Course.

INDEMNITY TO THE ITALIANS.

But Proof Must be Positive and Sure.

Certain Rights of States Are Recognized.

Blaine's Reply.

Ry Associated Press. WASHINGTON, April 15.—Secretary Blaine completed his reply to the last letter from the Italian government yesterday, and sent a copy of it to the Marquis Imperiali last night for transmission to Marquis Di Rudini. It is understood to he long, and a complete answer to all questions raised in the last note from Italy, being much more voluminous than any preceding letters. Secretary Blaine, in his note, did not withdraw in the least from his original attitude, in declaring the law will take its course and cannot be hurried; that indemnity will probably be granted the families of the men killed at New Orleans, in cases where it is proved they are Italian subjects and entitled thereto, but this proof must be undoubted, and that the federal government cannot trespass upon the prerogatives of the State which now controls action in the case.

No Thoroughfare.

NEW YORK, April 15 .- Secretary Foster of the Treasury Department, who is in this city, said to-day the principle was definitely agreed upon to restrict the present policy which permits the Canadian railway to carry goods sealed in bond across the contineut into our territory. Shipments for American ports, which come over the frontier from Canada, will be treated precisely as though they arrived at the port of New York. In other words, the policy is to prohibit the transportation of goods in bond through the country or across our territory. It will probably take two arrangement.

Battle in Chill.

y Cable and Associated Press.]
PAEIS, April 15.—Dispatches from By Cable and Asso Chili state that a desperate battle, resulting in a loss for the Chilian insurgents, was fought at Copiapo, the capital of the Province of Atacama. Only meagre details are given. The dispatches say the insurgents, after a long and determined struggle, were defeated with heavy locses by a force of 3,000 of President' Balmaceda's

The dispatches, which are supposed to originate from an insurgent source, add the insurgents' army is increasing steadily in strength and intends shortly to march upon the capital, Santiago de Chili, and Valparaiso.

War's Alarms.

ST. PETERBURG, April 15.-In spite of the peaceful utterances of the government officials of Europe, everybody knows that Russia is making extensive preparations for war and that her rivals are on their side making counter preparations for a great struggle which must sooner or later take place. Russia has been expending enormous sums in the construction of strategic railroads, and in this and other ways making arrangements for the transportation of large bodies of Russian troops to the Austro-German frontier, which are now almost completed.

Raitrond Matters.

CHICAGO, April 15 .- The Advisory Board of the Western Traffic Association met again this morning without a quorum. Dispatches were received from Jay Gould and S. S. H. Clark of the Missouri Pacific, saying they are unable to attend because of ill health. A telegram from President Hill of the Great Northern said a representative of that road would reach Chicago on Thursday or Friday. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the

Y Associated Press. | CHICAGO, April 15.—It transpired that S. R. Howells, the head of the wealthy firm of Howells & Co., dealers in lumber, with headquarters in this city and branches in Omaha and Atchison, Kansas, was secretely arrested by the federal authorities yesterday and brought before the United States Commissioner and held in $5,000 bail for his further appearance. It is said that warrants for the arrest of his two brothers, one at Atchison and the other at Omaha, are also out. It is stated that there is evidence in Greeted the possession of the Inter-State Commerce Commission which will prove that Howells systematically bribed certain weighmasters of the Western Railway Weighing Associs- And tion at Missouri river points to record false shipping weights. The weigh masters in question will also be arrested and proceeded against by the

It is reported that flagrant violations of the Inter-State Commerce law on the part of several western roads has come to light through information furnished through a discharged employe of the packing firm of Swift & Company, It appears that when this man left the employ of the firm he took with him copies of a number of secret contracts with railroads and other evidence of discriminations made in favor of the company, which he turned over to the United States District Attorney. The roads supposed to be implicated are the Barlington, St. Paul, Alton, Wabash and Canadian Pacific. The officials of the roads deny they are guilty of any infraction of the law.

Commercial Congress.

KANSAS CITY, April 15 .- A full representation of the Western States to the Commercial Congress was present this morning when President Francis called the second day's session to order. The subject under discussion was the general business and agricultural depression, cause and

F. J. Skiff of Denver read a paper on "Population and Raw Material," in which he said: "One section must have a trading treaty with the population for the raw material of some other section of the country. Hence arose the significance of commercial reciprocity between the States of the South and the States and Territories of the West. Production and accumulation of a surplus was the controlling power in commerce. So long as man lives in an isolated community, each sities, there could be no commerce. Alf of that portion of the United States lying west of the Mississippi river is the greater half of the continent, not only in its area, but in its resources of wealth and its capabilities of maintaining population. Within this area are contained two-thirds of the natural resources of the Union. It is also capable of maintaining a population proportionate to its area. No one would question the ability of the Western or Southern States to support as large a number of people to the square mile as now live in Pennsylvania with 114.5 people to the square mile. All in all, figures confirm the nooga. The Governor will give a truth of the statement often made, that the United States in its area and material resources is capable of maintaining five hundred mil ion people."

The guests of Congress were then invited to make addresses. Ex-Governor George W. Glick of Kansas, said the subject of greatest interest to the western farmer, was the great agricultural depression. The greatest cause of this depression was insufficient markets. The remedy was a wider field for disposition of the farmers' surplus. Blaine's reciprocity schemes and Secretary Rusk's efforts in extending the markets for live stock, were a partial remedy for the pres-

Speaker Elder of the Kansas House upon the farmer, but there were other conditions and they were nearer schools have been given a holiday, the root of the evil. One was the imcaused by mercenary consolidations of capital by unscrupulous persons. The trusts were flanked by speculative boards of trade and bucketshops, which forced false values upon the people. Another cause of the depression was a too contracted market. The farmer wanted a wider field. They wanted reciprocity. Reciprocity was a good thing and they wanted all they could get of it. Another way of relieving the situation was by increasing the volume of money. Still another way was a combination of farmers against opposing combinations. Farmers are now trying the last method.

Dr. Parsons stated he was directed by the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture to represent that department at this congress. He spoke of the causes of the depression in agriculture. One was the loss of foreign markets to farmers because diseased to regain the market was to eradicate the disease. Dr. Parsons explained what the department is doing in the way of quarantine and inspection to the GAZETTE.] San Francisco, April 15 .- A. Ainsley Young, a young Scotchman employed by Coburn, Tevis & Company, as salesman, this morning shot him self through the heart because Miss May Wheeler, a typewriter girl, refused to receive his attentions. Young met the girl last night and begged her to become his wife. She refused, however, as she had done severaltimes before: "Young returned to his room and mailed her a note, reading: When you receive this I shalf have passed away."

The receipt of the note aroused Miss Wheeler's fears, and with a friend she proceeded this morning to Young's quarters. He was found lying on the bed dead, his clothing soaked with blood. The coroner has taken charge of the remains.

RENO must in the very nature of things have a bright future. Situated as she is on the banks of a stream with unlimited water power, in the heart of a rich agricultural section, with railroads reaching out east, west, north and south, tapping sections overburdened with all the good things of life, we cannot see how she can remain at a standstill a great while. Take the north, for instance, with her fields of waving grain, her fruit, timber and her beef that must come this way to find a market and get supplies; the south, with her mines rich in ores of almost every description and prolific agricultural resources besides, will contribute to Reno's prosperity. The west, drawing supplies for a prosperous lumber region, and the east, with her marble, tin, gypsum, gold and silver, hay, grain and beef seeking a market this way will be bound to tell in time. The Air Line Railway will make Reno a city of thirty thousand souls if it is ever built; or the Southern Pacific Co., if they should take off the "competative point" embargo, would make it a wholesale center and multiply the present poupulation by three in and strong. one year's time. Reno must grow and become the chief town in the State in a very short time.

THE rush of immigration continues to be phenomenal. From Ireland, from Germany, from Italy, thousands of stout, laborers are now on their way to this country, and all efforts on the part of the home governments to restrain this outflow seem useless. We have now a first-class immigrant law, under which we can fully protect ourselves, and we should weed out the drones and criminals from the vast incoming mass. But we should remember that immigration is one of the sources of this country's vast wealth, and every son of Adam and daughter of Eve who brings honesty and a clean bill of health should be allowed to enter without let or hindrance.

It is the only paper that has shown any disposition to be friendly or fair to this State. It would be a graceful thing for one or two hundred people to subscribe for the Weekly Tribune. It costs but a dollar a year, and is one of the best papers for family or general reading in this country. Any subscriptions sent to C. A. Thurston, Reno, Nev., will be attended to.

CHIRON AND HIS CAVE.

Cleverly Retold Story from the An-cient Mythology. In the mountains of Greece there was a great cave, and in that cave lived a man who was a half horse, writes An-drew Lang in St. Nicholas. He had the head and breast of a man, but a horse's body and legs. He was famed for knowing more about every thing than any one else in all Greece. He knew about the stars and the plants of earth which were good for medicine and which were poisonous. He was the best archer with the bow and the best player of the harp; he knew most songs and stories of old times, for he was the last of a peo-ple half horse and half man who had dwelt in ancient times on the hills. Therefore, the Kings in Greece sent their sons to him to be taught shooting, singing and telling the truth, and that was all the teaching they had then, except that they learned to hunt and fish and fight and throw spears and toss the hammer and the stone. Many of the boys taught by Chiron became famous. Among them was Orpheus, who played the harp so sweetly that wild beasts followed his minstrelsy and even the trees danced after him and settled where he stopped playing; and there was Mopsus, who could understand what the birds say to each other; and there was Butes, the handsomest of men, and Tiphys, the best steersman of a ship; and Castor, with his brother Polydeuces, the boxer; and Heracles, the strongest man in the whole world, was there: and Lynceus, whom they call Keen-Eye, because he could see so far, and he could see the dead men in their graves under the earth; and there was Enghemus, so swift and light-footed that he could run upon the gray sea and never wet his feet, and there were Caland Zetes, the two sons of the North ad with golden wings upon their

DEVELOPING PANAMINT.

Done Through the Bold Operations of E. P. Hains, a Man Well Known in Nevada.

The government explorations now in progress in Death Valley and the Panamint range of mountains bordering it on the west, bring to mind the exploits of one of the boldest adventurers among the early mining operators of the Great Basin, as this arid region was called when we were boys and studied 'gography back in the "States." The Panamint mines are situated on the western slope of the range, and some of them on the latteral spurs running from the main summit, and at an elevation of about 9,000 feet above sea level. The summits are from 10,000 to 11,000 feet in height, and the descent on the eastern slope being very abrupt into Death Valley, which is, about opposite Panamint, 240 feet below sea level, gives the mountains an appearance of bold and rugged grandeur. The Panamint mines were discovered in 1872, but not brought into any notice until the summer of 1873. Some of the early prospectors bore very UNSAVORY REPUTATIONS And did not dare make much effort to attract outside capital, except through some trusted middle men. The reasons were made obvious in concluding one of the first sales when the owners went to San Francisco to get their money. Wells, Fargo & Co's agents were watching one of them for an old stage robbery and when the money was ready they demanded from him the restoration of $12,000, to cover losses sustained by his depredations, or an arrest would be the immediate result. He very coolly assented and asked for a receipt, and the money was paid. The success of selling the mines was almost wholly due to the efforts of E. P. Rains, a man who possessed the daring and dash of a Jim Fisk and who would have rivaled his achievements in finance, had he been favored with any educational attain-ments; but in this he was deficient and the knowledge of it bred in him a reckless waste that was only equaled by his natural prodigality and gener-ous impulse. He coveted money only for the pleasure of spending it and he squandered it with a recklessness that was born of the spirit of '49 and his early associations in California.

THE HISTORY OF HIS EFFORTS To "place" the Panamint mines on the market would fill a volume, but the main facts are briefly told as fol lows: This writer chanced to journey with bim on his first trip, when, to reach Panamint, the trip was made from Bakersfield, in Kern county, Cal., by stage, through Havilah and Walkers Pass, on the way to Cerro Gordo. At Little Owens Lake, Rains left the stage, procured a horse and crossed the Coso and Argus ranges, eightv miles to the out-door camp at Pana-mint. He soon obtained a bond of the principal mines and returned to San Francisco. No success met his first efforts, and he had to return for samples of ore to verify his highly colored statements. He returned and obtained about 1,000 pounds of handsome specimens of copper-stained ore, rich in silver and very attractive in general appearance. He could not get this carried out from Little Lake on the stage and had to send it by

TO CREATE A BOOM For the new mines in order to enlist capital. There he again met this writer, and through him sought introductions. Rains stopped at the Arlington Hotel, then the leading one of Los Angeles, and in the barroom made a display of Panamint ore that set the town agog, and aided by his lavish expanditure of money at the bar soon created a furore. He made no effort to sell any interests there, but gained the confidence of leading citizens and got the Board of Trade to subscribe $4,000 toward building a wagon road to the new mines. The newspapers were full of Panamint, and he blossomed into print as Colonel Rains. The news reached San Fran-Rains. The news reached San Francisco, and when a week later Rains arrived and displayed his samples, he was the sensation of California street. His money was all expended, however, and going to Senator Jones, who was just on the eve of starting for Washington, Rains pressed him for a loan and got the Senator's check for $1,000, to aid in placing the property. Rains started out at once to

"PAINT THE TOWN RED." And succeeded in one night in squandering the $1,000, and woke up in the morning in jail. He soon found a friend to furnish bail, borrowed enough to buy a ticket and followed Senator Jones to Washington. Then he presented his scheme so plausibly that the Senator let him have money in liberal sums to promote the scheme, partil Pains had become from him nntil Rains had borrowed from him $15,000. Then to organize the com-pany Senators Jones and Stewart took an interest, and from that little comncement they were dragged into the seme and with their associates sunk in less than two years' time the mag-nificent sum of $2,000,000. Rains nincent sum of $2,000,000. Rains made many thousands out of his oper ations, but squandered it as fast as it came, and finally died in New York penniless and was buried by the California colony there with all the honors due to a pioneer of '49. Senator Jones was present and spoke of him kindly as having been "a reputable citizen of the Pacific Coast."

SHOWING THE BOY THROUGH.

W. Mackey Shows His Son

Through the Mines. The Carson Appeal contains the following alleged intercourse between John W. Mackey and his son:

A HOME WEDDING.

One of Reno's Fair Daughters Wedded by a Californian.

There was a quiet but pleasant home wedding in Long Valley yesterday morning, where one of Reno's favorite maidens was sealed to one of Stockton's bright boys. Miss Lalla C. Remington was married at the home of her mother to Mr. F. W. Ratz, in the presence of the members of the bride's family. In the afternoon the wedded couple came to Reno, and in at Los Angeles and practice law. the evening were given a reception at the residence of J. W. The Si Plunkard combination appears at McKissick's Opera House tonight. They pleased Virginia night before last and Carson last night. The Virginia Chronicle savs:

"The Orera House was crowded last drolleries of the actors and were kept and also tobacco, pipes and notions. in good humor till its close. The Dutch character is the best of the combination, leaving out the impromptu dog fight gotten up on the stage. The simpleton who appeared in the third act creates more amusement than the balance of the troupe combined. The troupe is assured of large audiences wherever they appear. Go and see them to-night and be happy.

A THIMBLE RIG TUNNEL.

Shrunk Up and Left Only a White Sear on the Hillside.

The following story of unsuccessful prospecting is told in the Genoa Courier on R. H. Gelatt, the well known stage proprietor of Douglas county: "Do you see that white spot on the hill yonder?" said the Judge. "Well that's Dick Gelatt's alum mine. When Dick drove stage here, he used to tell the passengers this story. 'You see I'd struck the genu-ine Roulder Hill ledge and had run in a tunnel about forty feet when about sundown we struck an immense body of alum. We quit work and the next morning when we got ready to work I'll be blowed if we could find a trace of the tunnel or ledge.' Why, what became of it? asks the unsuspecting tourist. 'Well, you see there was a heavy rain that night and the whole thing puckered up.'"

Sugar Beets For Food. Though not generally used for table purposes, sugar-beets are good for food, but the best way to use them is to feed them to cattle, sheep and swine. It makes a good change for swine. It makes a good change for stock, and in milch cows increases both the quality and quantity of milk. When we keep in mind that starch is but another name for sugar in wheat, corn, barley, etc., we will readily draw the conclusion that the fattening qualities in sugar-beets are no mean factors in inducing their cultivation. English farming economy never leaves out of sight the cultivation of mangolds and sugar-beets for feed and manure.

The Bill Passed at the Last Session Licensing Stud Horses Claim d To Be no Good.

The Lyon county Times claims that the bill providing for the payment of license for the compensated services of stallions, is a dead letter. It says:

bill to require owners of stallions to pay a license. It seems that none of the owners of stallions are paying any ttention to the new law (?) however, as it transpires there is an irregular-ity in the law. The bill was intro-duced in the Assembly. It then went to the Senate where it was amended, and from there to the Gove nor's hands without being returned to the Assembly for concurrence in the amendments. The Governor signed the bill, but it is very evident that the law will be inoperative, owing to its history."

A Narrow Escape.

Louis Ortiz, a little Spaniard who has been about Reno for several weeks past, shot at a young man named Dan day was the means of packing the eighty cents at the Government Mint. of the Palace Hotel. Mason caught house. The audience laughed at the La Marsellaise cigars at A. Nelson's the pistol and threw up Ortiz's hand the pistol and threw up Ortiz's hand just in time to have the bullet graze The two men and a his left wrist. The two men and a third party had been gambling, when the Spaniard and Mason retired to divide the spoils, and Ortiz, being quite drunk, concluded to take a shot at his friend for luck. Ortiz was locked up pending an examination.

HE WAS ASHAMED

To Ask Again, but His Frank Letter Got It for Him.

A few months ago one of the unfortunate inmates in the San Francisco Almshouse was inspired by the sensational statements in the newspapers with the belief that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla would help him. But out money, how to get it was the question. Finally he wrote to the Edwin W. Joy Oo, appealing to their generosity, and it was not unheeded, the coveted preparation being sent by the next parcel delivery. Its effect is best told in a subsequent letter, from which we quote the following:—

which we quote the following:

"I suppose you know me by this writing, and my circumstances and condition. Although improving, I ask of your generosity for another bottle of your Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Its laxative action is perfection itself. It has so thoroughly regulated my system that my catarrh, rheumatism, constipation, and headaches are all better. I feel ashamed to ask in this way, but what shall I do? I thought I might not need any more, but I am now so anxious to keep it up; but you see how it is."

since that time the week following the fifteenth day of the first Hebrew month, the month of Nison, has been set aside for commemoration of their departure. It was on the night of the fourteenth of Nison that the Hebrews, now numbering three million, were led to freedom by Moses. In chapters twelve and thir teen of Genesis the manner of celebra tion on the first night of the feast is partly told, and there it is commanded that unleavened bread be eaten on the first night and no leaven be kept in the ouse at any time during the week were forced to take along unleavene year during this week only, and those Curope, when they happen to have any bread or other sort of leaven in the house the housewife locks the pantry and hands over the key to sor Christian friend of hers to keep till the feast is over.

The making of these unleavened cakes talled matzos has come to be quite an industry in this country, says the Times-Star of Cincinnati. For three months before the feast of passover the matzos bakers are busy, and nearly eight mil-lion matzos are baked in this city from the middle of January to the middle of April. This represents about four hundred and forty-five thousand dollars.

Said the head baker at a large bakery: We make about eight thousand matzo a day, for which we use four barrels of

Then the water used must be put into a vessel before sundown and remain to settle for the whole night. This bakery is for baking unleavened bread only, and every thing is especially got for this bakery, even to

"How do you prepare the flour?"
"We take, say, fifteen pounds of flour, and, mixing it with water, we put it into a copper kettle, where it is thoroughly mixed. Then this man, the kneader, takes it, and on this block by means of pressing on this heavy beam, he kneads the dough to the proper cohesiveness." The reporter saw a block, on top of which was a beam four feet long, fastened by a spring at the back of the block; and there was a man jumping on and off the beam, so as to make a sort of artificial kneader, the beam rising when the man jumped off.

"It is then taken to the next room, said the baker, "and about a third of it at a time is passed seven times through is a man with a sharpened wheel which he uses to cut the strip into pieces, each they are done."

"Are these cakes made the same way in Europe?"
"No; abroad there is more hard work.

"Matzos cost about ten cents a pound, and the meal which we nake by grind ng broken matzos costs eleven cents a ound. We make one hundred pounds of meal a day."

GOLD DISCOVERY.

The Disputed Date Established by Doou-mentary Evidence.

The various societies of California pioneers are accustomed to celebrate the 19th of January as the date of the discovery of gold by J. W. Marshall at Coloma, but that it is an error is shown by Mr. John S. Hittel in the Century, as follows (a fac-simile of the entry in Bigler's diary being printed in the magazine as ocular evidence): The first record of the discovery, and the only one made on the day of its occurrence, was in the diary of Henry W. Bigler, one of the Mormon laborers at the mill. He was an American by birth, then a young man, and now a respected citizen of St. George, U. T. He was in the habit of keeping a regular record of his notable observations and experiences, selecting topics for remark with creditable judgment. His journal kept during his service in the Mormon battalion and his subsequent stay in Cali-fornia is one of the valuable historical documents of the State. On the 24th of January, in the evening, Bigler wrote in his diary: "This day some kind of mettle was found in the tail-race that looks like gold."

Nothing was said in public about the date of the discovery until 1856, eight years after the event when Marshall published a Aetter in which he said that he found gold at Coloma "about the 19th of January, 1848. Neither then, nor at any subsequent time, did he claim that his recollection of the day was aided by a written memorandum. In 1857 he published a statement that the discovery was made on the 18th, 19th or 20th. His biography, prepared under his direction, and printed in 1870, fixed the 19th as the precise day. As years classed he became more exact, perhaps under the influence of public opinion, which from 1356 to 1886 accepted the 19th as the day. On the 9th of September, 1885, at the annual celebration of the admission of the State into the Union, I delivered an address on the gold discovery to the Pioneer society of San Francisco, and sent a copy of it in print to Mr. Bigler, of whom I had heard as one of the survivors of the Coloma party, and requested him to correct my errors, if he found any. He replied that according to his diary the gold was found on the 24th. At my solicitation he copied the entries of his book from that day to the middle of May; and then I began an investigation which made me familiar with the diaries of Azariah Smith, a survivor of the Mormon battalion and one of the mill builders at Coloma, and with the diary of Sutter. These three diaries agreed substantial ly with one another, and with Marshall's statement that four days after the discovery he took specimens of the gold to Sutter's Fort. Smith made his entries on Sunday as a rule; and on the 30th January he wrote that on the preceding week gold had been found at the mill, and that Marshall had gone to New Helvetia to have it tested. This was probably written in the morning, for Bigler's entry made on the same day mentions that the test was success ful, implying that Marshall had re Sutter's diary reports that on the 28th January Marshall arrived at the fort "on important business," without men-tioning the gold. The agreement of the three diaries with Marshall's statement that he went to New Helvetia four days after the discovery, the superior value of documentary evidence as compared with vague recollections, dimmed by years of intervening events, and the un certainty of Marshall in reference to the date, left no room for doubt that the

AN OLD MAID'S SOLILOQUY. To take or not to take it, is the question—
Whether it is better to end this earthly career
A such control of the sum of those who would insist
That lack of lovers caused my lonely state,—
Or take the remedies my sisters take,
And see my eyes grow bright as tho' I bathed in the immortal fount De Leon sought
In vain in Florida's peaceful shades.
I oft have heard my married sisters say [tion
That good old Dr. Pierce's Favorite FreekripWould bring back color to a faded cheek—
Restore the health of one who fain would die
To rid herself of all the pain she feels.

The aforestid suinters took the remedy—

To rid herself of all the pain she feela."

The aforesaid spinster took the remedy—and forthwith took a husband also, having regained her health and blooming beauty. Thousands of women owe their fresh, blooming countenances to the restorative effects of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leusorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb.
